CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress

The House has passed, and sent to the Senate, a bill to restructure, or to cancel some fifty-two and one half billion dollars of appropriations previously made for war and other purposes, when it was anticipated the conflict with Japan would last well into 1946. Other cut-backs and reductions in future appropriations are also scheduled. One of the provisions of the bill by the House would bring an end to the activities of the United States Employment Service within thirty days and restore the functions to State control, from which they had been taken up by executive order under President Roosevelt's war time powers.

President Truman has assured the Special Joint Congressional Committee to Investigate the Pearl Harbor Disaster access to the confidential files of former President Roosevelt. The Committee has practically completed the ground work for its investigation, which will get into full swing in about two weeks. One of the questions to which the Committee is seeking an answer is why the American Pacific Fleet was cooped up in Pearl Harbor at the very time diplomatic relations with Japan were so strained as the result of Japanese aggressions in the Orient.

As predicted in this column two or three weeks ago, the Navy Department late last week announced a general lowering of its discharge point quota requirements as of November 1 with additional reductions in December and January. Effective November 1st officers will be required to have 46 points to be eligible for discharge, instead of 49, as under the present quota; enlisted men 41; WAVE officers 32; and WAVE enlisted personnel 26 points. Each of the above point quota requirements will be reduced by an additional two points in December 1st and by an additional one point on January 1st. Navy medical officers will need 53 points, instead of 60, for discharge after November 1st, and 51 points on and after January 1st. Thirty-three hundred doctors—one fourth of those now in the Navy—will be released by January 1st.

The Senate Finance Committee has practically rewritten the tax bill which was passed by the House two weeks ago. While the Senate goes along with the House in freeing some twelve million Americans in the low income group from paying income taxes in the future, the Senate version of the tax bill provides for a three per cent point reduction in each income bracket instead of four, eliminates the ten per cent reduction guaranteed to the high bracket taxpayers under the provisions of the House bill and in lieu thereof gives each taxpayer a five per cent deduction from the total amount of tax due as figured under the above schedule. The Senate has also added a new provision which will continue and extend special income tax exemptions to members of the armed forces, and to veterans thereof, as a matter of temporary relief. The plan of Secretary of the Treasury Vinson to completely repeal all excess profits taxes on corporations, effective January 1st, next, was accepted by the Senate Committee, instead of the reduction to sixty per cent as provided in the House bill. The Senate Committee, however, struck out the House provision reducing corporation surtax rates by four percentage points and substituted therefor a slight reduction in surtax rates for small corporations having profits of less than $50,000.00. The Senate is expected to pass its version of the new tax law not later than the end of the week, following which both House and Senate bills will be sent to a conference committee to iron out the differences between them. Every effort is being made to complete final legislative action by November 10th, that the new tax forms may be ready for use by January 1st.

Both the House and Senate have passed resolutions inviting General Douglas MacArthur to address a joint session of Congress, and it is expected the conqueror of Japan and the Supreme Allied Commander in the Pacific will visit the Capitol within the next two or three weeks. The colorful General is assured of a rousing welcome.

PRES. TRUMAN ASK FOR BOYS IN HIS YOUTH ARMY

President Truman yielded to the military brass hats and war profiteers for compulsory military training for all youths between the ages of 18 and 20 years, or upon graduation from high school, which ever is last. The President asks Congress to pass such legislation but Congress is more responsive to public sentiment, than the president or military and is not likely to rush such legislation at least until after the next Congressional elections.

The President drew a hair-line between what is military training and what is not. He informs the public it is not a military move, yet he insists we must have a military to keep us a world power. He refers to the training as educational yet the boys will be in military camps under regular military officers as "teachers." Meantime orders have been issued to destroy no military camps that exist now, until after Congress takes action.

The President stated there would be no exemptions, otherwise than what he termed "physically unfit." New Dealers now come forth with the plea we must have exemption for all boys that want to be scientists or "bomb builders or throwers." A fine loop hole to have boys from Demo-New Deal families exempted if they "have the political pull." It would be interesting to have a list of the names of those in this county made public as result of political pull which kept them out of World War II.

The President in his plea for military training of youth throws all of the peace conference movement out of the window. The administration is at the breaking point with Russia on a number of proposals all because we are preaching peace for the world and arming to the teeth ourselves. Russia discounts our promises in the face of what is happening at home. For that reason she runs and rules in Europe and Asia and wants MacArthur kicked out of Japan, that Stalin can hold that country as a war trophy. Russia is at the throat of England and the British dare cross words with their new competitor for European power.

Congress realizes the position we are in, part of which was inherited by Mr. Truman. His great mistake was in pledging to carry out a dead man's political promises in world affairs, not knowing what all the promises were.

BOYS UNHURT WHEN AUTO HITS TRAIN

Three youth might credit their life to lady luck. The three were driving South on Main st. and ran head into the fast Pennsylvania train that goes through here about 70 miles an hour near the midnight hour. The accident happened late Tuesday night.

The three boys were Pvt. Paul Paul Struwing, 18, near Yellow Springs, driver of the Chevrolet sedan, Leon Buffenbarger, 17, and Harold Stormont, 18, both of this place. Pvt. Struwing is home on furlough from Ft. Lewis, Washington.

Pvt. Struwing saw the train approaching but in trying to stop on the wet pavement the car skidded and was hit by the tender of the engine. The impact whirled the car around and the rear end was hit again by the passenger cars. The car overturned with all three occupants inside. None were injured outside of a minor bruise on Pvt. Struwing's leg above the knee.

The front part of the car was cut off and ground to bits and scattered along the track to Miller st. The rear of the sedan was jammed and even the upholstery on the back seat torn out and no one was seriously injured.

The car was a total wreck. The locomotive on the passenger train was damaged but was able to proceed to Xenia where engines were changed. Miracles will happen!

Miss Pauline Ferguson attended her sister as maid of honor and Mr. Leroy Shaw, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Messrs. Harold Stormont, cousin of the bride and Harold Shaw, West Elkton, O., a brother of the bridegroom.

County Budget Is Given Approval For 1946

Greene county's proposed budget for 1946 envisions an increase of $20,000 in expenditures in the general operating fund. A public hearing was held Wednesday morning at the courthouse when final action was taken on the outlined $256,361.25. The requirements are about the same as last year except an additional amount to care for necessary repairs on the courthouse roof. A decrease was voted in the dog and kennel fund.

The Greenville, O. chamber of commerce has sent vigorous protest to the OPA in Washington, to senators and all congressmen, against the present hog price ceilings and any change in the floor price for the following year. The chamber also asks the aid of all like organizations in neighboring cities to oppose the present ceiling on hogs in behalf of the farmers, who are the potential part of the retail trade in each county.

The cry across the central states is that if organized labor is entitled to an increase of 15 to 30 percent in all wages, so are the farmers entitled to the same on all farm products.

County Is Short In War Fund Campaign

Greene county has so far not met its quota for the National War Fund that was to close Tuesday, according to Dr. H. H. Abels, county chairman. An appeal went out to all workers to do their best and "comb every corner." There is no excuse to go into detail as to the purpose of this fund for it has had wide publicity over the county. There are many Greene countyans in the service and more "boys" are to be drafted regardless of the fact the war is over—everywhere except in Washington.

A special appeal is made to all the churches, fraternal orders, granges, in fact all groups, to make up a fund of certain amounts among their own members to meet this emergency.

MEETING IN INTEREST OF BOY SCOUTS

A number of parents and sons met in the Methodist Church to discuss the Boy Scout movement. Ward Creswell is Scout master of the local and headed the movement to expand the work of the organization. Supt. Walter S. Boyer of the public schools was appointed chairman of the cubbing committee to arrange for additional meetings.

The organization needs headquarters and it was suggested that the township Trustees grant the use of the floor under the opera house stage in front of the dressing rooms to house the organization this winter.

Those present were: Mrs. Nathan L. Cory, Mrs. John A. Paul, Mrs. Aden Barlow, Mrs. C. R. Wagner, Mrs. Dana Bryant, Mrs. Donna Finney, Mrs. Anna Wilson, Mrs. Donald Hagler, Mrs. Arthur Cutler, Mrs. J. A. Parker, Mrs. Harold Reinhard, Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mrs. W. R. McChesney, Misses Carrie Rife, Margaret Bailey, Edith Hackney, Mary Williamson, Ruth Lewis, Ora Hanna, Rachel Finney, Mildred Trumbo, Mrs. Elmer Luttrell, and the hostesses.

BACK FROM HUNTING TRIP

William Marshall and brother, Fred, the latter of Dayton, spent a week at Miller, S. Dakota, hunting quail. The game was plentiful and forty birds were brought home. The trip was made by motor.

DEMS TRADE LOW HOGS FOR C I O VOTES

The American farmer is still the experimental guinea pig for the new Dealers in trading lower cost of living for higher wages to organized labor.

The Truman administration is in the hole trying to make good promises to organized labor by the former President. Lower cost of living at the expense of the farmer is part of the New Deal campaign strategy for the 1946 congressional elections. Farmers are being traded off for the votes of organized labor by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson, who has all along posed as the friend of the farmer or himself owner of several hundred acres of land. His salary as Secretary is evidently more important as a political job than the income from his land in the arid west.

The Secretary announced this week that the floor price for hogs after Oct. 1, 1946 will be one dollar less than the present price. The price is now $18 at Chicago for the base and will be dropped to $12 a year from now, just one month before the congressional elections.

Sec. Anderson in his argument for a reduction in the floor price goes to the dream days of Henry Wallace and his boggy party fooler to deceive farmers.

Anderson uses his arithmetic in computing the new floor price. "Parity for hogs on Sept. 13, 1945, was $12.60. Ninety per cent of this is $11.34."

Anderson adds a new feature in his plan to lower the cost of living by lowering the floor price of hogs using the seasonal method. He took care to put the floor price down when farmers are able to feed hogs at a minimum cost and upped the price when there is always a scarcity of both hogs and feed due to the season. Anderson puts his floor figures as follows: "The Chicago $12 average support price will vary with normal seasonal changes, ranging from $10.75 in December, 1946 to $13.25 in September, 1947."

Anderson sets the 1946 spring pig goal at $2,000,000, about equal to the 1945 spring pig crop.

Sec. Anderson's reported action on 1946 floor prices are hardly in tune with his radio speech or his talk to representative farmers of the central states some months ago at Lebanon. Farmers that heard his remarks and were in attendance at the WLW affair had high hopes of a much different secretary of agriculture than the recent Hootsister that has gone into retirement with a record as the greatest fizzle that ever graced the ag chair in more than 150 years of the nation's history. It was he who double-crossed the farmers on the hog market and the farmers immediately went on a "hog strike" and shipped hundreds of thousands of hogs to market, thus creating a scarcity of pork that not be found in great quantity in any retail market.

Secretary Anderson by his recent lowering of the floor prices on hogs in the face of organized labor's demands, has taken a step that puts his judgment on his interest in the farm on par with his Hootsister predecessor. One is inclined to believe Anderson is not familiar with the central states farming situation with 1945 war time wages on all farms against panic year hog prices of 1914. Ohio alone raises probably ten times more hogs than the Secretary's native state. Ohio is not regarded as a very good field for billy goats or coyotes.

The Secretary has put the weight of organized labor first in computing his hog price schedule against the organized farm vote as his latest order will prove attractive to organized labor at the 1946 congressional elections.

A DOWN-RIGHT DIRTY SHAME

There has been a lot of publicity about the nation celebrating "Navy Day." The object of the event is worthy but is the time opportune? We witness the bringing of our war and other vessels from all parts of the world, even to lake ports, Cleveland and Chicago, as well as smaller government craft to Cincinnati by the Ohio River route.

Meantime several million men who have given of their service, some more than three years, are laying in idleness in foreign countries awaiting a boat to bring them back home to family and friends that they can at once get into civilian life. Some of these men have been hedged in between a British shoreman strike and the determination of "King George's democracy" to keep as many Americans and their dollar in that country as long as possible.

This nation has for long conquered all the belligerent powers of the world, yet we have an administration that is not big enough, not human enough, without determination, and one under the whip of organized labor, to hold as many men overseas as possible to keep them from displacing some due-paying member of a labor union that never has smelled the smoke of powder. Day by day proves the weakness, regardless of the outward intention of the White House occupant or what he issues in public statements, to prove he lacks leadership and backbone to cross swords with labor leaders.

We are to celebrate Navy Day, which will be a hollow mockery to millions of Americans, while our boys are virtual prisoners in camps in foreign countries. And yet, the administration boasts we have won the wars around the world, but we have a President who dares not declare the wars end by proclamation because of its political significance.

WE GIVE TWO PROPOSALS ENDORSEMENT

The Herald wishes to go on record as endorsing two proposals that will be placed before the voters at the coming November election. The first is the tax levy for electric light within the village, a levy that our citizens have supported for a number of years that we can have electric lights on our streets. It will be no additional burden to any village property owner, only a continuation for another five years of the present tax rate. It must have a sixty-five percent vote or the issue will fail. Make the vote unanimous and we can be assured of electric lights for streets for the coming five years. There is no other way the village can finance street lighting unless council should pass an assessment ordinance and we are sure property owners do not want that.

The second proposal concerns the voters of the village, the township and the county, and that is the bond issue for a new county home. No doubt some may hesitate about supporting that issue but when all the facts are on the table it will be seen the issue is an economic one, and for that reason we urge the voters to vote in the affirmative for it.

There may be a lot of other things we think we need, or the county might have, but they are not to be confused with the county home issue. As we find the situation the present home is not fireproof, it has not the sanitary facilities, there is no way to get crippled men and women from one floor to another other than by carrying them and worse of all, the heating system is out of date and has served its usefulness and now requires at least twice or three times as much coal as it should, or would be necessary, under our modern methods of heating. The cost of coal is a heavy burden on the county as will be attested to by most citizens who know of their own domestic heating costs. It would be a waste of public money to try to convert the old building into a modern structure.

The county commissioners have given this matter serious and conscientious consideration. Their judgment has been backed by farm, financial and commercial leaders of the county who have made personal investigation. The judgment of these men is that the county can save money by a new investment on upkeep, while the present building upkeep grows larger and larger each year.

Give this matter serious consideration from an economic viewpoint and we are sure you will vote for the bond issue that will not prove to be burdensome to anyone.

Weikert & Gordon, Auctioneers. OWNER
(Lunch Served on Ground)

Cong. Smith, Virginia Democrat, is out with a statement that the OPA is doing more than anything else to hold back reconversion and get the much needed cheap articles on the market. If you are looking for a new washing machine, an electric refrigerator, underwear, children's clothing, stoves, and a lot of other useful articles used in great quantities, don't expect such very soon. The Virginian is on the right track when he says most of these things cannot be made on war time labor cost as well as materials and sold at 1942 prices. Again merchants cannot absorb the extra cost as OPA suggests. There are hundreds of new washers, refrigerators, etc. in storage now awaiting shipment. They are for sale when the manufacturer can sell at a profit and the retailer can sell at a profit. That's why you cannot find many of the things you need and it is the labor with war time wages that is still asking higher pay and going on strike to force it. General Motors and U. S. Steel may be on a "sit down strike" but they should stand pat. The general public has not objected to paying more its only the New Deal crackpots backed by a lot of radical radio commentators.

Fulton Lewis, Jr., went hay-wire a few nights ago on the strike situation and the deliberations between unions and management, especially referring to GMC. Fulton, who usually has his comment on the line but this time he was off the beam when he said the interest of the public came before the interests of the stockholders. We wonder if Mutual Broadcasting Co. stockholders subscribe to that view in as much as that company is more of a semi-public concern, a utility, than any automobile company. Again Fulton at a later date put heavy pressure on the Truman plan of robbing the schools and colleges of the 18-year-olds for a year in the army for that is what the Truman proposal is. The brass hats want more men to keep the New Deal appointed high salaried generals on the payroll. The 18-year-olds in service now want to come home. To talk of the army as a training center for culture is bunk. It was Germany, England, France, Italy, Poland and a lot of other large and small nations that started World War

II. Now we talk of loaning a lot of money for what?—to keep a large standing army to preserve the peace of the world. We have won two wars to save what was supposed to be democracy. A true democracy does not need and will not have 18-year old boys out of school in a make-shift army. What Mr. Truman needs most is a program for something. Thus far he has drifted with the labor union racket tide and no "yes" to the demands of Dictator Stalin, who has millions under arms at his expense.

While the New Deal Trumanites and organized labor juggle for top place in the strike situation, the white collar worker is to be the victim and forced to pay the price. The farmer is to be the goat planting, reaping and selling his product under government dictatorial prices based on panic 1914 prices. The farmer is going to pay more for farm machinery, repairs, even to the overall he wears, or he is to get neither. Talk of "take home" pay for organized labor. What about the net income of the farmer with $7 a day labor and farm prices based on 1914 schedule when top labor was $3 a day? The New Deal tricked the farmer on hog prices and the farmer went on a "sit-down strike" and pork went off the city meat market while the farmer continued to eat his own pork regardless of the crackpot rules of OPA. Another "sit-down strike" on the part of farmer is without question in the making. A dose of less food on the city market might give Mr. Truman more of a headache than the present labor squabble. The public will soon know whether Mr. Truman is to be the president of organized labor followers or of all the people.

Hallowe'en is here from present indications. We have had three telephone calls as to how much protection could be expected this year, following the wholesale destruction last year. Hallowe'en fun and property destruction are two different things. Other towns have the same problem, the desire to destroy, sort of Roosevelt-New Deal policy. The Springfield PTA is out with a ringing statement placing the blame on parents for laxity of control at home. Judge Gram last year not only sent for the boys guilty but the parents also. The PTA suggests such action as probably the best remedy. Another is strict enforcement of curfew. Not so long ago certain boys broke into the school house and did Poland and a lot of other large and small nations that started World War ing under Ohio law is fun—fun for the officers and courts but it can be made tears and heartaches for the parents of the guilty. The school case we are informed was handled outside of the law. One citizen reported to the writer last year after suffering a $35 loss that he was given legal advice that should the same thing happen again, he should present the bill to council. Refusal to pay the actual cost of the loss would be grounds for a damage suit against the village for not giving a taxpayer protection.

Gov. Kelly of Michigan took the recent strike of electrical workers in his own hands. Some two million people were to be denied electric or gas service. It was a bold stroke and we can say dangerous politically. The sound of that Irish name must have been a bit terrifying to strike leaders for they gave in and went back to work. When Calvin Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts the city policemen in Boston went on a strike. The public was at the mercy of a mob. Gov. Coolidge became famous for his demand that the law must be respected and that policemen were citizens of the state as well as officers and the latter could not defy the law. Coolidge broke the strike and it made him famous, a stepping stone to the Presidency. Will Mr. Truman be loyal to his name—a "true man" to his oath of office in regards to the continued strikes, especially of the un-American, Russianized CIO labor groups that consider themselves above all laws, state or national.

Would you ask your telephone man to milk?

Certainly not . . . an Ohio Bell lineman is not a jack-of-all-trades . . . but he is a mighty good specialist at his own "trade," i.e., the field of telephone communications. And he is backed by an alert and forward-looking organization that has at its disposal new construction methods, far-reaching developments in communications and new materials.

These skilled men now are at work putting into effect plans, many of which were made before the war, to improve and extend telephone service in Ohio Bell rural areas.

These plans call for an expenditure of $6,500,000 in the next few years. Among other things we will build 6,700 additional miles of pole line, enabling us to serve 30,000 new customers.

We are determined that within the near future every resident in Ohio Bell rural areas who wants telephone service can get it quickly and at the lowest possible cost.

You Want the Government to Bring our men and women in uniform back home---

Pay the mustering out pay-

Rehabilitate the wounded--

Look after the veterans' benefits--

Provide for the armies of occupation--

All of the above calls for huge expenditures. In order to provide for this, the Treasury Department has arranged for the Victory Loan Campaign starting October 29. It is your duty to buy bonds to your very limit in order to accomplish the above things.

They finished their job; let's finish ours
